The town of Tifton, Ga., was almost destroyed by fire Sunday night.

Washington's birthday was observed at Washington city by parades and public gatherings.

The first annual convention of the marshals and policemen will meet in Gainesville this month.

The negro who was to have been hung in Gainesville this month will not be executed yet awhile.

The New York Legislature has passed a bill prohibiting the display of foreign flags on buildings in that city.

The warehouse and prize room of the Dahlonega Tobacco Co., in North Carolina, has been destroyed by fire. Loss $10,000.

Fifteen hands are now engaged both day and night at Washington printing the new bonds. This is all that can work at a time.

A boy at American joined a band of negro burglars the other night and robbed his own father of a large quantity of provisions.

The Singer, Domestic and Davis Sewing Machine Co.'s have entered in a trust and are now negotiating to buy out the White Company.

Five prisoners escaped from Bibb county jail Saturday morning.

They were all hard cases, being murderers, burglars and diamond thieves.

The Atlanta Journal is getting after Congressman Livingston because he voted for an extra $100 to the private secretaries. Lon is one of your Democrats. Let him alone.

At Hot Springs, Ark., on the 22nd inst., three women were burned to death. Six hundred houses, several stores and fifteen cottages were destroyed in an hour, in all worth $100,000.

A man recently killed himself at St. Joseph, Mo., and left a note stating that he did it so his wife might be free to live with a man whom she had married in open violation of the law.

Miner Meyers, colored, has sued the Louisville and Nashville rail road for $25,000 damage under the civil rights law. She was removed to a car for one of her own color which caused the suit.

Fifteen thousand papers are represented.

The most startling blizzard yet in Georgia is published by Livingston Bulletin. It says: "A young man kissed his girl good bye on a cold night last week and the tears came by parting from their lips together and the mother had to heat a bottle of water before he could leave."

The committee on contested elections decided last week in favor of the two democratic members from Monroe county. The Douglas county contest which was decided last week as being fraudulent on both sides, and that a new election should be held, has been reconsidered.

John T. Pace of Smyrna recently, in getting out some cord wood, near Concord, in Cobb county, came across a mine ball that had been shot into a tree during the war, thirty years ago. The ball was imbedded in the tree of nine inches, a new growth of the tree having completely covered it. The most remarkable thing about it is that a piece of the paper of the cartridge was still wrapped around the ball, perfectly sound and without the least touch of decay.

Cleveland has just issued $62,500,000 of the people's bonds to run 30 years at 4 per cent. per annum. The whole affair was done in secret, even while congress is in session. The bonds are taken by the Rothschilds, of London, who made a dicker with the President to take all bonds for which they have the money to invest at a rate 1 per cent higher interest than the bonds could be sold for in open market. Yet, with all this, we have a Democratic congress in session which does not make a move to stay the hand which is assassinating American liberty, enslaving the unborn and taunting the present generation of working people—Dallas (Ga.) Herald.

Blockader Against the Revenue.

By request we publish the following version composed by a man down in Jackson county, in the year 1880:

Here is two old blockaders wherever they dwell,

They want to make whiskey to drink and to sell,

I cannot believe they are doing any harm,

They are at work for a living and buy their own corn.

But the revenue comes around and they spoil it all,

And these old reporters are worse than them all,

For they will slip through the bushes till they die a still,

And then they will report it for a ten dollar bill.

They rob the poor people, their living to make,

They turn over the tubs and burn up the fake,

They cut up the shell and mash up the corn,

Then back to Judge Bloodsue with copper extra.

But if they had justice they never would,

Back to Bloodsue their copper to show,

For they ought to be made quit as sure as they die,

For they are the men that's wasting the corn.

This law won't last always—some time it will change,

And then there will revenue officers again,

For all that likes whiskey will hate them you know,

And then there will the revenue officers go.

Remember, reporter, the time won't be long,

This law won't last justice for what you have done—

The revenue officer too must appear,

Then all will get justice for what they do here.

Take all the poor men and put them in jail,

There is less snow against them, it never does fall,

But the time will roll on and they'll all have to die,

And then they will be sorry that they ever swore lies.

Remember, the swearer, what will be your fate,

All the swears their part in that life with fire and brimstone its horns will they die,

And that is their portion, now they may depend.

There is Stephens and Finley would both have set Joe free,

But they are the men that you see, He studied a lot right on that spot,

And swore he smelt whiskey in the old gaiter pet.

He never smelt whiskey, I'll have you to know,

Except he smelt it at the still house below.

For there wasn't none about it if I had to die,

And it's hard for Joe to punish for Tankard's lies.

The judge and the jury, I want them to hear,

There will be a great judgment where they must appear,

They are sworn to give justice, and I want them to have,

That Tankard's swears lies wherever he goes.

Changes have been preferred against four of the members of the fire company of Macon charging them with stealing goods.

NOW IS THE TIME. The benefit to be derived from a good medicine in early spring is undoubted, but many people neglect taking any until the approach of warmer weather, when they will like a tender fever in a hot sun. Something must be done to purify the blood, overcome that tired feeling and give necessary strength. Vaccination is earnestly longed for, but many weeks, perhaps months, must elapse before rest can be indulged in. To impart strength, and to give a feeling of health and vigor throughout the system, there is nothing equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems perfectly adapted to overcome that prostration caused by change of season, climate or age and while it tones and sustains the system it purifies and renovates the blood. Feb. 15th.

Those Who Will Receive Pensions.

Nearly all of the widows of Confederate soldiers who are eligible to pensions have received their annual allowances of $60.

The state's bounty will next be apportioned out to the old soldiers.

The payment of pensions will begin on March 12.

Referring to this Judge Johnson of the State Executive department said yesterday:

"I have received, by the way, very many applications for information concerning the new law and there seems to be a great deal of apprehension about its terms. The intent of the new law is clearly to pension only such persons as are in extreme poverty. For instance, a man came to me the other day in the firm belief that he was eligible to a pension under that law and had acknowledged that he was earning $40 a month. After the preparation of the blanks for the pensioners under the old law is completed and the payments of these pensioners begins, I will send out the blanks for applications of persons who seek pensions under the new law. The payments of these pensioners will begin some time in May."—People's Party Paper.

Dalhousie Signal.

DAHLONGEA, MR. 1, 1895.

Dr. Wald went over into South Carolina this week.

Mr. Robert Payne has rented the Miller Davis farm.

We notice that some of our earliest gardeners commenced work this week.

Mr. Frank Winy killed a fine wild turkey near town last Saturday while it was flying.

Go to J. F. Moore's and see his new line of dress goods just received, at prices to suit the hard times.

Mrs. Wald, who has been absent on a visit in the North for some time, returned to Dahlougea last Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Smith, who has been spending several months at her father's, Mr. Q. Mendenhall, takes her departure for her home at LaGrange, this week.

We have had several bright, beautiful and pleasant days, notwithstanding much snow can be seen on the north side of the hills and mountains.

The young folks enjoyed a party given by Mrs. J. P. Parker's children, Monday night. The attendance was large, and everything passed off pleasant and all were happy.

We notice that the Gainesville papers have announced that Lumpkin Superior Court convenes on the 2nd Monday in this month. This is a mistake. It is the 31st Monday in April.

If you desire to keep the correct time as given by the college sun dial, be governed by the ringing of the bell as follows: Six o'clock, a. m., 7:45, a. m., 8:15, a. m., 1:15, p. m., 2:45, p. m., 8:30, p. m.

Two weddings occurred in Chastetown district Thursday of last week. David Seabolt was married to Miss Malinda Turner, and Thos. Turner to Miss Sarah Rayn. May all their lives be prosperous and happy ones.

Any one wishing to buy a good farm within less than two miles of Dahlougea, should apply to Miss Hannah Carr, at this place. She expects to leave for the West in a few days and desires to sell before she leaves.

The recent cold weather was a drawback to all kinds of business, more especially mining. A merchant informed us Tuesday that he did not buy as much gold in two months as he generally does in a week of favorable weather.

There is a man in this county who is more than seventy years old, that never subscribed for a newspaper in his life because he says it upholds laziness, and still he walks two miles to his neighbor every week to read what the railroad news is in the paper.

En. SIGNAL—

In cording split wood out doors put the bark side down and the bark side up and it will cure and dry out nicely and will keep dry and light. On the other hand if the bark side is put down the wood will absorb much water when the rain falls on it and will remain heavy and soggy and thereby decay much sooner.

N. F. HOWARD.

Mr. Bartow Anderson, who has just returned from Union county, informs us that the weather has been much more severe across the Blue Ridge than on this side. He says they had six inches of snow a few days before we had our first one, making four snows to our three. Nearly all of the birds are frozen and starved to death. As many as twenty-four partridges have been found dead at one place, and wild turkeys were so hungry that they would go to peoples lots and yards in search of food.

OLD PEOPLE.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and stimulant, and acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding in the performance of all the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price fifty cents per bottle at E. C. Cartledge Druggist.

Congress has about ceased its wind work and March will finish it up now.

About sixty dogs have been registered for taxation up to date in Dahlougea.

We are informed that several hogs froze to death in this county during the cold spell.

Albert Hamilton and Savannah Barton, col., were united in the holy bonds of matrimony Thursday evening of last week.

Ex-sheriff Brooker has been taking a little recreation and rest out in the country this week, accompanied by his family.

Rev. Jackie Reeves, who recently died in Hall county, preached Jones funeral which was hung in Lumpkin county in 1844.

Mr. Charley Satterfield, a merchant of Dahlougea, has a half barrel measure that was made by a Mr. Bryant more than forty years ago.

More than two hundred people attended Mr. Miller Davis' sale last week. Miller spent a small amount for advertising and this the fruits of it.

Judge Kimsey has appointed Dr. H. C. Wheelock as one of the tax collectors of Lumpkin county, which was made vacant by the resignation of M. F. Williams.

There was no school last Friday on account of the celebration of George Washington's birthday, and the young folks enjoyed a hop at the Burnside Hotel.

Two more children were married in Dahlougea Saturday evening—Della Franklin and Goodman Beale—aged about fifteen each. Esquire Thomas performed the ceremony.

Rev. C. C. Spence, who recently resigned the principality of the Young Harris Institute, is now a citizen of Lumpkin county, located at the Henry Ash place in Chastetown district.

We stop the press to remark that the side walk view of our office is receiving the proper attention. May the mayor, each member of the council and the marshal live long and prosperous lives.

The new road which is being made through the farm of Wm. Postell in Yahola district, has caused the county to be sued for $150 damages by the owner of the property. The trial takes place next Monday.

We call our readers attention this week to the advertisement of Mr. J. F. Moore, to be found in an other column. Mr. Moore has just received a large stock of new goods all of which will be sold low down for cash or trade.

Last Monday Albert Wheelock swore out a warrant against John England, a lad of 17 summers, for throwing a rock and killing one of the moose geese and placed it in the hands of the sheriff and the boy left town. Afterwards the goose recovered and the warrant was withdrawn.

Bro. McNeelley will likely make his announcement for his preference for the next Congress in a few days for the month of March. Col. M. G. Boyd, of Dahlougea, in January, and Capt. R. K. Abney, of White, in February have already been mentioned by him before.

The following is a list of the officers of the Masonic lodge in the place Dec. 20th, 1892, none of whom are now living, to-wit: Geo. T. Quillian, W. M.; Wier Boyd, S. W.; J. L. Howell, J. V.; Isaac L. Todd, Treasurer; M. F. Stephenson, Secretary; B. F. Sifton, S. D.; J. H. Worley, J. D.; W. R. Williams, Tyler.

TWO LIVES SAVED.

Mr. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that she was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Ties Eggers, 120 Florida St., Savannah, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else, then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally healthy, it is such a relief, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. Free trial offered to all who send Druggist. Regular size 50c and $1.00.

Rev. W. A. Parks will preach at Auraria on the 31st Sunday in March.

The second quarterly meeting for Dahlougea charge will be held at Auraria March 23rd and 24th.

Deputy Marshal Harrison has destroyed eight illicit stills in Lumpkin and White counties since Christmas.

In all probability Rev. W. A. Parks will repeat his lecture of the "Siege of Vicksburg," at Dahlougea some time during court week.

Rev. W. A. Parks, pastor of the Methodist church, makes a special request that all the members be present at church next Sunday.

We regret to learn that Mr. Jno. Graham got one of his arms broke last Wednesday by getting it fastened in a crusher or cob machine, which he was feeding at Winy's mill.

A judgment was obtained some courts ago against ordinary Williams for charges which were supposed to be illegal, then amounting to about $400. Afterwards it was allowed him by the grand jury and this week a settlement was made. The money was paid over to him, then he settled off the judgment and the money went back into the county treasury.

Mr. Albert Wheelock informs us that he was shown two very old robes the other day by Mrs. Annand Davis, of this county—a watch chain and a pair of Indian moccasins. The chain is dated 1835 and the moccasins are more than one hundred years old. They are made of deer skin dressed nicely with beads and look as if they had just been made, except a few moth eaten holes.

Two wife whippings and separations have occurred in Lumpkin county this week, one at Auraria and the other in Frog Town district. The man in Frog Town first whipped his wife, then got out of the house and cut up with an ax and then picked up his old iron and left for parts unknown. He seemed determined that there should be no music at his house when he was gone.

Col. Charters' horse ran away last Wednesday and tore up the buggy considerably. Mrs. Charters and Mrs. Vickery had just been taking a ride. Mrs. Vickery got out of the buggy at her residence, and then Mrs. Charters drove over home, and when getting out the buggy top made a noise, which caused the animal to take fright and run.

Mr. Joseph Edwards, who has resided in this county since 1835, told us Saturday that he never experienced before as cold weather in this country, as the recent freeze. He related something else that he said that he never saw nor heard of before, and that was the catching of a crow in a trap. During the snow he saw a crow catch a partridge. He scared it away, set a trap with a piece of the bird, when it afterwards returned and was caught.

Master Earl Corn, one of Dahlougea's brightest little boys, entertained about 65 of his young friends last Friday night with a supper and party, it being his thirteenth birthday and also George Washington's birthday. The supper was served at 9:30 o'clock. Afterward they engaged in various games until time to go. All left wishing their young friend well and that he would live to enjoy many more happy birthdays in his new Western home for which he will leave for in a few days.

We see from the Atlanta Journal that the banks for the new pensioners under the late law, will be sent out for the soldiers to fill out about the 25th of March. Then they will be returned and payment will begin about the middle of May.

Mr. Elbert Patterson, of New Bridge, was up last Saturday in the ordinary's office, making out his claim for a pension, which makes the last applicant in this county under the old law. Patterson gets $100 for the loss of an arm while in the Confederate service.

One night not long since postmaster Gurley was aroused from his slumbers by a loud noise in the direction of his store house. It occurred to him that it was burglars entering the building. He at once awoke his family from the biggest to the least, and informed them of what he had heard. It was not many minutes, however, before he was partially dressed and making his way to the store house with his Winchester in one hand and a Smith and Wesson in the other. His good lady doubtless had some fears of her husband approaching probably a big band of burglars, near the hour of midnight. Mr. Gurley was not long in ascertaining what had disturbed him after getting to the store. Instead of safe blowers it was some of the colored members in their hall just across the street putting a fellow through the mysteries of the second degree of old fellowship. It is doubtless a good thing that the one disturbed belonged to the church, else he might have used some cuss words.

The Dahlougea Railroad Question.—The Georgia Railroad authorities say that they have no intention of building a railroad to Dahlougea, and it may yet be many years before the iron horse is seen coming into Dahlougea from any corner. It takes more than newspaper puffs and railroad meetings to construct a road. Railroad meetings have been held here time and again for years, and articles after articles written on the subject which if they could be gathered up and pasted together, would reach miles. Those of our citizens who have the most money, don't seem to take any interest in a road. They say they are getting too old to put any money in a railroad and that it could not possibly be of any benefit to them. This may be true but if we adopt this as a rule most of the people would cease putting out fruit trees and we would soon have no apples, peaches or other fruits. We should not feel discouraged.

More than 40 years ago the first railroad meeting was held in Dahlougea by our most influential citizens. At that time there seemed to be no division among the citizens and all pulled together. At that time railroads were but few and the prospect of one to Dahlougea was much more gloomy than today, but they showed a willing mind and all met and did what they could. Many of those citizens were gray haired at that time and knew that they could not live long, but they felt an interest in the rising generation. We should do like them.

This meeting took place on the first Tuesday in January, 1853, and those present were: B. Lewis, Chairman, Wier Boyd, Secretary, J. H. Wiley, Wm. Martin, P. H. Wells, J. R. Davis, Adam Peck, W. H. Thomas, Lewis Ralston, Samuel Harmon, Wm. Durt, J. J. Singleton, S. A. McDonald, Robt. Johnson, R. B. Hunt, J. O. Henley, J. R. Wood, T. Burt, Adam Thompson, J. H. his neighbors as the dog that barked all night at the moon, trying to make it change its course. This same person has many peculiar ideas. He was asked by a minister why he did not attend a certain church. Said he, "why, my brother, I can tell you just the reason I don't go to that church. Some time ago I did tend every meeting and if there ever was a worker for the posterity of that church, I was there, and I was not in readiness long until they saw George Peck coming from another still place with a trough on his shoulder. But he discovered the officers and made good and successful use of his legs. Mr. Harrison went to the distillery and found George's coat hanging up. Just as he was preparing to destroy the still, a voice was heard on a distant mountain, calling "George, oh, George!" which was recognized as that of Peter Peck calling his son. George had went in another course and was out of hearing, in other words he did not feel interested enough at that place to be present. Mr. Harrison put on George's coat and began piddling about the furnace while Peter Peck was approaching. Peter saw the man at the still but thought it was his son, but he was not long in finding out to the contrary after he walked up and was caught in a trap that had been set for him. The prisoner was brought on to town, bound over and made bond. A memorandum on George's coat pocket showed that there was a company interested in this distillery composed of Peter Peck, his son and George Eldred, colored. The company is now busted and the effects are in the hands of a receiver—Judge Newman, of Atlanta.

The Mayor afterwards remitted the fine and Osborn is again a free man.

The Nugget and Gov. Atkinson.

Ed. SUGAL.

I would venture to say that the article in last week's Nugget about Mrs. Atkinson's loss of mind and health is republished by every person in the community, without regard to race, color, sex or politics, unless it be the editor who wrote it. It is simply brutal, and stamps the writer as unmanly and ungentlemanly. Every friend of Gen. Evans spurns it as cowardly, and unworthy of a white man. It is to be regretted that there was a man in Georgia with venom enough to pen such a piece, and it is to be hoped that it will receive no wider circulation than the Nugget will give it. SPARTANUS.

Georgia's Pension Law.

Atlanta, Ga. March 8.—In view of the fact that the impression seems to prevail that the new pension law provides for practically a "service pension" Gov. Atkinson has determined to prepare and distribute a list of questions which applicants for the benefit of the new law must answer.

The law does not propose to provide a service pension for all the soldiers who served in the army, said the governor to-day after a conference he and the attorney general held on the subject. "The idea was to give state aid only to such old soldiers as are entitled to assistance from the charity funds of the counties. In other words it is to supplement what the counties are authorized to do and to keep old soldiers out of the poor houses." Only 500 can be provided for by the appropriation made, but up to date between 4,000 and 5,000 applications have been made. There is little doubt that the great majority of these applicants do not clearly understand the terms of the law and are not entitled to the pension, and when they are subjected to the examination contemplated they will be weeded out in the wide rows.

Two Many Soldiers.

Some days ago Judge Johnson the State Pension Agent sent to the ordinaries of the various counties a request that they make an estimate to him of the number of applicants, or probable applicants, under the new pension law act and of how many of these applicants would, in their opinion, be favorably passed upon. His idea was to get some basis for an estimate of what this pension would amount to.

He has received to date replies from 101 of the 137 ordinaries, and the applications for pensions from these gentlemen foot up the magnificent sum of 4,000 and over. A great many of them have not answered the second question as to the proportion of probably deserving applicants but those who have, estimate it at from 30 to 50 per cent.

Taking the lowest estimate the indications are that the list of favorably acted upon applications will run from 1,000 upward. In view of the fact that the legislature appropriated but $80,000 and directed that each pensioner should receive $60, the probabilities are that the condition of affairs will be very much like that when the widow's pensions were provided for, and payment had to be deferred for a year or more in order that the necessary additional appropriation might be made.—Peoples' Party.

"Dak" Rodgers formerly of Union county, but now of Haystack, N. C., is now under arrest for selling dog meat to a hotel proprietor at that place for venison. He had made a contract to keep the hotel furnished with the wild meat, and at last it got so scarce that he went out and killed one of his neighbors dogs, skinned the ham nicely and carried them to the hotel where they were served to the guests.

MAIRVILLOUS RESULTS.

From a letter written by Dr. J. G. Underman, of Dismal, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While she was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rye Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery, and quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at E. C. Cartledge Druggist. Regular size 60c and $1.00.

A New Baptist Church in Dalhousie.

Ed. SUGAL.

Hoaring the bell of the Baptist Church ring last Saturday morning, and feeling that its tones rang out sweeter than usual, and remembering also that the writer had not attended a conference for some time, he concluded to attend this service, and find out what the brethren were doing. Some little before noon he arrived, and found before the door was shut, which was not done for the purpose of keeping any body out, but to enable those inside to keep warm, for the morning was chilly. I approached for the purpose of entering, but concluded first to see how many were there and what they were doing. Every body acquainted with the church building, (but few in the community are not, for it has weathered the storms of more than fifty years), very well known that nearly one-fourth of a panel in the front door is out, and one can see every body that is inside and can very well hear all that is said. I soon learned that few devoted brethren and sisters were talking about erecting a new house of worship in Dalhousie. I could hear the well known voice of the clerk talking about the chances of a new house. I think he said there were about $500 in sight, and that the sum of $1,500 more would likely be added in the early spring or summer, but just where this money was to come from I could not distinctly hear, and then $500 more might be added to finish up with, making in all the lively little sum of $2,500.

There was something said about selling the lot now occupied by the old building, and putting the new church in the locality of the "free lot" (where all could keep cool I suppose). The lot matter was, however, to be kept quiet for fear that owners of real estate would run up the price of land, but then it was reasoned, that if this was done, the new church could be erected where the old one now stands. The members were urged to keep this subject in view, and come to the meeting prepared, at an early conference, to decide about dimensions, lumber, brick, and some more money.

I thought I saw on the countenances of a few male members the impression of power, and that they would have to worship in the old house a long time before Providence would build another one. The sisters looked a little more hopeful, just as if they wanted to go to work at once cleaning off the ground.

Prof. E. B. Vickery was acting as Moderator, at least I took it to be him, and when he called for explanations and acknowledgments, it seemed that the entire brotherhood of the church was in good order, except that there were a few lazy brethren who stayed away from conference avoiding paying anything to the pastor or to the expenses of the church. They were cited to appear in person, (no attorneys allowed to appear for them) and show cause why they should not be "cast out." The clerk was good naturedly abused for not citing them "members of the ground" heretofore. It did seem to me from the open panel in the door that there is going to be a rattling of the dry bones by the time organs are laid by.

A GREAT SALE.

Pianos and Organs to Be Sold at Anything They Will Bring.

The Freyer & Bradley Music Co., of Atlanta, has just purchased the entire business of the Miles & Stiff Company, and are preparing the grandest sale of organs and pianos of 40 pianos and 60 organs in the stock ever attempted in this country. The question of cost does not enter into consideration in the disposal of the instruments. Mr. W. W. Crocker, the manager of the Freyer & Bradley Music Co., made the Miles & Stiff Co., a lump offer for their entire business, which was accepted, and now the goods must be sold at what they will bring.

The sale will begin Monday, March 18, and one can make their own prices and they will be considered. The Freyer & Bradley Music Co. will fully guarantee the instruments sold to be just as represented, and the sale is such that of a firm going out of business for the Freyer & Bradley Music Co. remains to protect the purchaser.

This is a great opportunity for those who have in contemplation the purchase of a piano or organ any time within a year or two and it will pay to make the trip to Atlanta for this purpose. Next again will the opportunity be given of buying a new piano or organ for less than it cost for the material. The sale takes place in the old warehouses of the Miles & Stiff Co. in the Grand. In the stock was over thirty thousand pieces of sheet music, and the Freyer & Bradley Music Co. is giving away to the ladies. Address all our correspondence to 63, Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.

J. FRANK MOORE,

Dahlonega Signal.

DAHLONEGA, MR. 15, 1895.

Number 7 cooking stoves at J. F. Moore's for $9.

The spring frogs have commenced their music.

Col. Boyd spent a few days in Atlanta this week.

A colored hand is spoken of in Dahlonega, that is colored people with brass horns.

The drill ground at the college is being broken up for the purpose of cultivation.

The temperance meeting adjourned Sunday night in order that its members might see the moon in eclipse.

All you who anticipate attending camp meeting this year should read the letter of Pegwood on the first page and take warning.

Mr. Jabe Waters returned from a visit to the old folks at home in the county, Sunday afternoon, accompanied by his wife and two little boys.

The young men desiring to call on the girls are put to some inconvenience to find a boy to carry their notes since the vagrant law went into effect.

The large hickory tree, in front of L. Q. Meaders' residence, which was killed by the blizzard of last spring, was felled to the ground last Saturday. It was probably the oldest tree in Dahlonega. Mr. A. G. Wimpy says he remembers seeing a fellow tie a monkey to it while it was about the size of a man's leg, more than half a century ago.

The other day Mr. J. C. Davis came to town to make some purchases. He got the goods and reached into one of his coat pockets after a ten dollar bill which he placed in a memorandum book and put in the pocket before he left home. He soon found that the pocket was bottomless and that his book and money were both gone, and has not yet found either.

It will be seen elsewhere that there are hundreds of persons, both men and women, that will not get a cent of the state's money. Governor Atkinson says that it is not the intention of the law for all poor persons who served in the army, to draw a pension, but only those that are being kept up by the county. If this be the case there are but few that will draw pensions in Lumpkin county. The amount appropriated by the state for the old soldiers is $30,000, $60 each for 500 persons. Up to date it has been ascertained that between 4,000 and 5,000 will make application.

Some of those that delight in going to camp meetings will be glad to know that the meeting at the Dahlonega camp ground will convene two weeks earlier than it did last year, notwithstanding the time will seem as long to them as ever. Mass is in coming to a child. Camp meetings have not quite served their day yet. When they were first organized every body went to them for the purpose of serving their Master. Now it is different. At the present time they visit them for various purposes—some to sell liquor, to drink it, to be with their friends, to "spark" the girls, and others just in order to see the face once more of the ones they were long years ago engaged to, while a few go for the good of the meeting, and often times they are disturbed by some drunken fellow, causing them to appear in the courts term after term as a witness against him for some of his misconduct.

CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATHARIC CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY, Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 5th day of December, A. D. 1885.

A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Hall's Cathartic Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, Jan. 1896.

A lot of new brands of tobacco just received at J. F. Moore's.

The colored festival Sunday night benefited the town treasury and others $15.00.

Moulding for picture frames and glass fitted to any size. Anything of this kind needed, call on Frank Meaders.

The checks for the old soldiers who have been heretofore drawing pensions in Lumpkin county, were received by the ordinary Saturday night.

A heavy storm passed over a section of country between Dahlonega just before dark Friday afternoon, but did no damage that we have as yet learned of.

Mr. Tom Mead was married to Miss — Marlow, youngest daughter of Mr. Joel Marlow, in Hightower district last Saturday, by Esquire James Healand.

It is known that thirty-seven old soldiers in Lumpkin county will make applications for pensions, when only about eleven will draw. One of these who desires to draw returns $800 worth of real estate.

Ella Sumner, a colored female, who was summoned to appear at the Mayor's Court Monday, failed to come and, the result was she lingered in the calaboose several hours for contempt of court.

Three colored women, Mozelle Lake, Ella Sumner and Sudie Elrod, who were charged with being drunk and engaging in some misconduct at the colored festival Sunday night were tried Wednesday evening and acquitted.

Mrs. B. R. Meaders is now in Atlanta under treatment of physicians for something growing on her head, supposed by some to be a cancer. The pain is increasing every day but she has not decided to have it removed at this writing.

The new road which was to have been drawn through Walker and Postell farms in Yahola district, will not be finished. Postell said the county for $150 damages, being represented by Boyd & Lilly. Last Tuesday the case was tried and plaintiff was allowed $10 and the order of building the road was revoked.

Frank Meaders had a narrow escape from being hurt by his horse Sunday. He had just returned from a ride with a lady and was in the act of alighting, having one foot in the stirrup and the other on the ground, when the horse stepped on a loose brick, reared and threw him. In an instant Frank was in the saddle, which increased the animal's scare and it started off at the same time "blucking," throwing the rider from his seat several feet into the air, but Frank dropped back into his proper position and held fast to the reins of the bridle until he succeeded in quieting the horse without having sustained any injury.

Last Saturday evening Marshal Harrison, shortly after returning from Atlanta, learned that a supply of blockade liquor would be brought to Dahlonega. He, in company with Bud Gaddis, went out in the direction the liquor was to come and lay in wait on the side of the road, where they remained for some time without seeing any suspicious party pass. They returned to Dahlonega and found that their man had come another route and had took out his horses, tied them in the lot near the house occupied by Mrs. Stringer and had gone out in town to make some engagements, the officers think, and during his absence they located the liquor by two women coming out of the house and covering up the small keg which had been left near the well with brush. After waiting some time for the owner, who failed to appear, they picked up the four and a half gallon keg and carried it off where it awaits a claimant.

The Besser House is still vacant but Uncle Charlie Besser says he doesn't care to rent it.

Your attention is directed to the card of E. L. Fletcher, assayer, Atlanta, Ga., to be found in another column.

Wm. Balyse, of Fannin county, was tried and acquitted of the charge of illicit distilling Tuesday, by Com. Baker.

Some days a mad dog passed through Shoal Creek district biting dogs, geese and everything else that came in his way.

If the tax digest corresponded with the deeds on record in the clerk's office the valuation of much property would be a great deal higher and the taxes of Lumpkin county would be considerably less.

A working and a light took place between a number of parties last Saturday at Mike Lingerfels, in Jones' creek district. Several shots were fired but no one injured. Cause of the row—too much liquor.

Mr. Joseph Edwards paid our office a visit last Tuesday for the purpose of getting the names of two of our correspondents who, he says, have been injuring him. He was informed that he could get them by complying with the rules, which he said he would do, and desired their names for the purpose of commencing suit against the parties.

Col. Boyd, in his temperance lecture Sunday night took occasion to call attention to the condition of affairs in Hightower district since blockading had ceased up there—his citizens had become law-abiding and were more prosperous now. Since the lecture a fellow remarked that Bud Gaddis, who works for U. S. Deputy Marshal Harrison, had done more towards bringing about this prosperity than any thing or any body. Matters not who or what did it, let Hightower continue to keep up her good name.

Mr. James M. Adams, of Martin's Ford district, spent a few hours in Dahlonega Tuesday for the first time in quite awhile. Uncle Jim's beard is as white as cotton but he enjoys very good health considering his old age. He is one of the number that went to California from this county and returned many years ago. Many of his comrades died on the vessel and were buried in a watery grave, but he made the trip safely and returned to his native county in good health.

A portion of the committee appointed to set the time of holding the Dahlonega Camp meeting, met in the Ordinary's office last Saturday and fixed the meeting for the present year to embrace the second Sunday in August, commencing on Monday night, August 5th and continuing until Sunday night the 11th. Those of the committee present were M. G. Boyd, John H. Moore, F. L. Reese, E. M. Williams, B. R. Meaders, by proxy, together with Rev. W. A. Parks, pastor of the M. E. Church.

We notice that editor Price is talking up a mail route from Dahlonega to Cleveland through the influence of Congressman Tate. Hope he will succeed as the present system is a very inconvenient one. To get a letter from this place to that town it has to go via Gainesville and Lula and takes from two to three days to make the trip. If a young man was going to marry and wished to invite his bride to Cleveland, the wedding would be over before an invitation could reach him by mail. Mr. Tate will probably give this matter his attention as soon as he rests from his overwork, performed in the congress just closed.

Bud and Alfred, two negro boys were arrested by Marshal Anderson Friday morning and put to work by authority of the ordinance recently passed by the town council. After a few hours work they were let go by promising not to loaf again on the streets.

Mr. W. B. Ship, of Union county, passed through Dahlonega Saturday on his way home from Cumming, where he had been to sell a load of cabbage. He felt enough interest in the printer to stop long enough to hunt him up and leave a silver dollar for the SIGNAL.

We have always heard it said that it was bad luck to burn sassafras wood, and we have had great ever since our devil told us that he had burned a stick of this wood in the office stove the other day. We at once took out all the ashes and are now awaiting our fate.

Col. John B. Graham, of Two Run, and Mr. James E. Wood, of Anuraria, are the two oldest postmasters in Lumpkin county. They have been citizens of the county for half a century, and held those positions for many years. Matters not what puts gets into power they are never disturbed.

A poorly number of young men sit out in porches with their sweethearts Sunday night and watched the eclipse of the moon. They enjoyed it so much that they watched and talked about the beautiful moon until the eclipse had long passed off and retired and, of course, dreamed about the moon.

We are informed that most all the public schools throughout the county in the country have suspended until later in the year when crops are laid by. No suspension of the schools in Dahlonega will take place, but will continue until the expiration of the full number of months prescribed by the school law.

Old Uncle Billy Franklin lost his cow last week. It is said that he bled her for the hollow horn, and made such a broad and deep gash as to cause her to kick, and every time she kicked a big stream of blood gushed out of the gash until she passed in her checks. So you see the cow was cured of the hollow horn in this way, but we wouldn't advise our friends to adopt the remedy.

U. S. Court is now in session in Atlanta and quite a number of the mountaineers of our county will have to go down and serve from one to twelve months in Fulton county jail for making and selling liquor.

How much better it would have been for them had they not violated the law and been able to remain at home and assist their wives and children in raising corn. City Marshal Anderson was very busy Monday catching dogs on which no taxes were paid, and arresting parties who had been violating the town ordinances. The dogs were put in one end of the calaboose and the prisoners in the other. By Tuesday noon the dogs had all been paid out but one, and the prisoners were all out on bond except one. Neither seemed to have a friend that was willing to come to the rescue.

Frank Wimpy, colored, got full of the "overjoyful" Sunday night and went to a colored woman's house, near Dr. Wells' and played the part of a Western outlaw. With his pistol several holes were made in the building and he caused as much racket with his shooting iron as Uncle Charlie Besser did with his market the night that he heard Cleveland was elected. Now Frank is gone and the marshal has two cases booked against him, one for disturbance and the other for gambling on the deacons.

One of the sons of the colored Methodist church at Gainesville, who was appointed to preach this year, to ascertain whether he expected to return to Dahlonega, but has heard nothing from him as yet, notwithstanding the letter has been written more than two weeks. It may be that he has his adieu. He borrowed 50 cents from Uncle Dick Anderson, col., and $1.50 from the white preacher while here, so we learn, to be paid when he returned. If the town marshal catches the boys like he did Monday—three leaving at a time—it will be useless for him to return for he will be unable to get his flock together again even long enough to take up a collection.

A House to Rent. Suitable for Store, Residence or Boarding House, opposite Dr. Howard's residence in Dahlonega. Possession given at once. Rent: Seven dollars per month paid monthly. W. P. PACE.

Did you know? when you are scanning the columns of the SIGNAL that you are reading the oldest weekly paper in Georgia?

Four more of our young friends in the county, Jackson, Jones and Tate, have entered the college within the past few days, three of whom have been going to the Hiwassee college. We are glad to see that our people are beginning to realize the fact that we have one of the best institutions in the state and that it is proper for them to patronize home institutions.

Bro. Price is making an excellent paper out of the Cleveland Progress, one which the citizens of White county should feel proud of. Before Bro. Price embarked in the newspaper business in Georgia, he visited Dahlonega and said that he was tired of city life and was looking out for some quiet place. In locating at Cleveland he certainly found the town that filled the bill, for during the summer season the katadids hollow there both day and night. Most of the few citizens residing in the town own farms and work on them. It is unnecessary for a vagrant law up there for they all work from the biggest to the least and are a prosperous people.

It seems that the White county jail is one of the sorriest prisons in Georgia, and if the authorities of that county desire to keep prisoners safe they should have them placed in the jail of Lumpkin county, one from which no one has ever escaped. But a few nights ago four prisoners made their escape from the White county jail at one time, Henry Robinson, who used to work in the revenue business, being one of the number. On Friday of last week Robinson was captured near his home after a hard fight, by Constable Pruitt and placed in jail again. He was chained to the floor and in other ways fastened. During the night he broke the chains. Then he burned the bars of the padlock to the top door leading to the dungeon, in this way managing to get the door open. Then he went down into the lower dungeon and crawled out of the hole through which he had escaped less than a week before.

Mining Notes.

It has been raining most of the week which has retarded mining operations to some extent. There are no new developments that we have learned of since our last issue, but everything at the old operations have been running about as usual.

Mr. John Jenkins has been engaged at work on the Boyd lot, recently purchased by Mr. Wahl, for several days. We know nothing as to the results, for the property is not for sale, and Mr. Wahl tells no more about what he makes in mining than a merchant would tell you what profits he made off of his goods. This is business. But few hands are engaged at the Mary Henry on account of no water to wash the ore from the cut to the mill. The heretofore supply from the Hand ditch cannot be had any longer as the company needs all the water it controls to run its own recently increased operations. This will force General Murray, the owner of the Mary Henry, to put in a pump at the creek in order to work his mine successfully, as he got disappointed in securing the right of way from a lot recently largished for from Mr. Wimpy.

Railroad and Mining Men in Town.

On the register of the Hall House are the names of Col. W. J. Baldwin, 3rd Vice-President of the Southern Railroad system, G. J. Dalrymple, Esq., President of the Pyrites Mining Co., and Capt. B. P. Lawrence, the engineer who recently located the railroad from Lula to Dahlonega, who arrived in town Monday evening last. Exactly what the mission of these gentlemen to our town means, we do not know, but we presume that something is meditated. Col. Price, of the G. & D., knows nothing about it, so he says, and therefore we are in the dark.

More Than a Dozen Charged With Gambling.

For some time past the mayor and council have been hearing of persons participating in gambling in our town nearly every Sunday. They went to work to find out the guilty parties by putting out detectives in order to bring this kind of sport to a close.

By last Monday morning Marshal Anderson gained sufficient information as to cause him to swear out warrants for the following persons, charging them with drinking, gambling and creating a big disturbance last Sunday, back of the colored Baptist church in the woods, to-wit: Aaron Satterfield, Wash Satterfield, J. W. Walker, all white, and Al. Singletree, Frank Wimpy, Bob Bristol, John Jackson, Charles Hunter, Al. Suddeth, Harve Anderson, E. Brown, all colored. All were arrested Monday except Frank Wimpy, Al. Suddeth, E. Brown and Aaron Satterfield, who have left town. The trials of those arrested commenced before Mayor Harrison Tuesday and continued until Wednesday. Bob Bristol was bound over to the Superior Court and committed to jail in default of a $50 bond. The remainder of the crowd were acquitted Tuesday except Walker, who has had no hearing yet.

After the gambling cases were disposed of Edna Jefferson was charged, with assisting Frank Wimpy to escape while the officers were in pursuit, was tried and also acquitted.

This occurrence is very much regretted and it is hoped that nothing of the kind will ever take place in our county again.

The city authorities are determined to put a stop to some of the violations of law in our town. It is said that at least three negro men are living with women in our town who are the wives of men in North Carolina. These cases will receive attention at an early day.

A Miracle in Vermont.

THE WONDERFUL EXPERIENCE OF A WELL-KNOWN CHELSEA MAN.

Stricken with an Incurable Disease and Yet Cured.

(From the Argus and Post-Register, N.Y.) Eight years ago (see Hutchinson moved from England to Chelsea, Mass., and bought the sawmill at the latter place. He was known as one of the best men in the town. On Dec. 10/92 while at work in the mill, he was struck in the back by a drive board which severed his spinal cord and incapacitated him for work of any kind. As a result of this, he became paralyzed in this, in a form of paralysis which deprives the patient of all his lower limbs). The Argus & Post-Register interviewed Mr. Hutchinson at Chelsea, and his story is here given in his own words. I have been back continually and my legs began to grow weak and I was unable to stand. By the 15th of April I could do the spinal seven weeks and took the medicines which the doctors gave me. I felt better at the hospital and thought that I was recovering, and went home to continue their treatment, which I did for two months, and also had an electric battery under their advice. The improvement, however, did not continue and I began to give up. In August 1893, I could not get out of my chair without assistance, and I was so weak that I could not get up alone. About this time I changed to read an account of the wonderful curative powers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I had no faith in the pills but thought a trial could do no harm, so I bought some without telling anyone what I was going to do. After I had been taking three months I was able to stand on my feet for the first time in three years. I was able to walk down the street alone, and was able to do all the work I wished to do. I was able to improve, and soon recommenced work in the mill, at first very lightly, and increasing as I was able, and as I gained in health and spirits, and now for the past three months I have been able to work as hard as any man in the mill. I have never felt so well, and I have no pain anywhere. The reporter then interviewed other gentlemen in regard to the case of Mr. Hutchinson, and they all agreed that he had been completely restored to his former health, and that he had been able to do all the work he wished to do. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain all the elements necessary to new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are sold by all druggists or may be had by mail from Dr. Williams' Medical Institute, No. 235 N. Y. St., for $100, per box, or 6 boxes for $2.50.

COMMISSIONER NESBITT'S TALK.

His Regular Monthly Letter to the Farmers of Georgia.

THE CORN PLANTING SEASON.

No longer saying "Corn Cotton for the Farmers—Corn of Raising Wheat and Corn on One Acre of Land—For as Two Cents a Peck from the State of Georgia, etc., etc."

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

ATLANTA, March 1, 1915.

As I place under the outside world, as far as the eye can reach, I see nothing but bare brown trees with here and there a green pine, and now every where—stretching like a thick white mantle over the hills, piled up in high drifts against the buildings and fences, completely hiding the face of Mother Earth, and inflicting much suffering on man and beast. As I turn from the contemplation of this most unusual southern scene, I realize that before this heavy layer of snow can melt and the land be ready for the plow, another week must pass, which will leave only a few more days in February in which to complete the preparations for the usual March planting. As so many farmers the first farrow has yet to be run for the crops of 1915, the time must, necessarily, be much delayed. This is not altogether due to the unfavorable weather, but to the fact that there have been several days when plowing could have been done with both dispatch and profit. But the majority of farmers have fallen into the habit of allowing the first part of January to slip by before any decided start is made on the year's work—only a few perhaps being that thorough, who, in the south farm labor is more or less demoralized after the Christmas holidays. Since the rains set in, about the middle of January, we have had a satisfactory succession of rains, rains, almost all, excepting a few, falling in the almost unprecedented cold during the first of February.

Where the land was properly plowed during the fall or early in January, the extreme cold, preceding the heavy fall of snow, will not in itself be a hindrance, but the breaking up of the particles of soil and thus increasing their power both of absorbing and retaining moisture. Old farmers predict a phenomenal crop year. And the farmers along this is, especially, indeed, there is some comfort to be extracted even from present weather.

In addition to the benefit to the land, the frozen soil has done much to many farmhouses and to many families. Fruit trees were so sufficiently advanced to be injured by the cold, but they will pay at a two fold rate of sap this building will be retarded, and we stand a better chance for an abundant fruit crop. The intense cold in the upper portions of the cotton has running below zero, and further south, has destroyed apples of insect eggs, and also retarded the injury from light frosts to the extent of a few days. Both to the detriment of the fruit grower. While only this latter class can lay claim to all these advantages, the average farmer can appreciate his share, and those harassed by low priced cotton, delayed work and general uncertainty and indecision, need not despair. Let him stir himself for the coming season, let him look ahead, and with clear brain and unerring judgment, lay his plans for assured success.

In a recent report of the state committee on the cotton industry, which coincides so exactly with the views we have already promulgated, and it is so forcibly expressed, that we would like to quote at length, as it would only serve to confirm the leading features.

"When we consider the fact that the market value of our lands and all the products of agriculture have materially declined during the past few years, that the average decline in the price of our staple crops, of which cotton is the most important, is about 50 per cent, and that it is questionable whether any crop can be grown at a profit under existing conditions, it is remarkable that our farmers are at their wits' end to know how to proceed, and what to plant, if by chance they may make both ends meet."

In support of this position, I refer to a report from the state committee on agriculture, Washington, D. C., March, 1914. At that date wheat was selling at 90 cents and corn at 25 cents in Chicago. To ascertain what the farmers were doing, he sent out circulars, and replies were received from 35,000 practical farmers, of which, 25,000 were of corn. These were revised and corrected by 4,000 replies from experts—i.e., graduates at colleges, etc., engaged in farming, with the following:

Cost of raising an acre of wheat, $11.60
Cost of raising an acre of corn, $11.71

The statistical report for December, 1914, showing the average rate of wheat and corn per acre on the farm was for wheat, $8.16 for corn, $2.40, which shows a virtual loss of $2.05 on every acre cultivated in wheat, and $1.00 per acre of corn in loss, leaving out the straw, chaff and stalks.

Should we draw any conclusion we can from this unprofitable condition of agriculture in the country at large, and "throw up the sponge"? Or shall we address ourselves gravely to the situation and see what can be done to mitigate this condition of things?

To meet this discouraging situation, the committee recommended that:

1. In the opinion of your committee, the expenditure of $4,500,000 for artificial fertilizers, by the farmers of this state, is unwise and improper under existing conditions.

2. The second question is: Can this board do anything to divert the expenditure of $4,500,000 for fertilizers and at the same time increase the profits of agriculture without injury to any other interest? We think it can.

I learn as the years roll onward
And leave the past behind,
That much I have counted sorrow
But proves that our God is kind;
That many a flower longed for
Had hidden thorns of pain;
And many a rugged by-path
Led to fields of ripened grain.

The clouds but cover the sunshine,
They cannot banish the sun,
And the earth shines out the brighter
When the weary rain is done.
We must stand in the deepest shadow
To see the clearest light;
And often from wrong's own darkness
Comes the very strength of right.

The sweetest rest is at even,
After a wearisome day,
When the heavy burden of labor
Has been borne from our hearts away.
And the words must be bold and silent
For as peace comes after anxious,
That falls on the troubled spirit,
When it seers, at last release.

We must live through the dreary winter
If we must value the spring;
And the words must be bold and silent
Before the robins sing.
The flowers must lie buried in darkness
Before they can bud and bloom,
And the sweetest and warmest sunshine
Comes after the storm and gloom.

So the heart from the harvest trial
Gains the purest joy of all,
And from lips that have tasted sadness
The sweetest songs will fall.
For as peace comes after anxious,
And love is reward for pain,
So, after earth is heaven—
And out of our loss the gain.

Illusive Sounds.
A new fact adopted by owners of phonographs is the collection of cylinders that give forth musical notes of an odd character obtained directly from nature, such as the song of birds the chirping of insects, and even the cries of wild animals in captivity. One of the pleasures derived from such a collection consists in submitting the notes to others for identification. Recently in searching for sounds still more fanciful a young woman of Philadelphia discovered a secret of acoustics not noted in any of the books on that science and which she terms "an articular illusion." Arranging eight sea shells of differing size so as to form an octave she expected to record the roar of sea as heard within them, first from nearby breakers and then gradually diminishing to a distant shore, but though she could distinctly hear the roar with something of this effect whenever she applied her ear to the lips of the shells, yet the cylinder refused to receive any sounds whatever no matter how carefully the funnel was adjusted and she therefore concludes that the sounds are purely illusive—Philadelphia record.

The Nebraska Sufferers.

To give our readers some idea of the distressed condition of the people of Nebraska, we clip the following local from the Callaway (Neb.) Tribune of the 2nd inst.

The first good rain for about two years fell Monday night. Meetings are being held over the county to consider the real question which is becoming a serious question.

The Callaway Central Relief Committee are mailing 1,000 letters appealing for aid. Let the good work go on.

Quite a number are making preparations to leave this spring as soon as grass starts to appear for a team to travel on.

According to the World-Herald's estimate there will have to be provided seed for a 1,000,000 acres at an expense of $170,000 for this state.

The trains of provisions and clothing Nebraska sent to the Johnston sufferers and also to the Russian in a few days ago are now being returned with interest.

Last week two wagons of provisions being hauled out to destitute farmers of Grant Township was held up near Lodi by masked men and the whole thing loaded in another wagon and hauled away. Its steel or stove in some places now.

The drought of the past two years has left this town in a sorry plight. Two years ago we had at least thirty business houses, but now the streets are dark at evenings, except 4 or 5 glimmering lights in the business houses trying to struggle through, and there is only here and there an inhabited dwelling. Verily, the Drouth Fiend has had his fill.

It is estimated that 2,000 farmers will have to be furnished seed in this county.

Something should be done to protect the empty houses in Callaway, as the owners may want to come back to them some time.

During the late blizzard the roof blew off of J. M. Pammel house and before he could get his children stored away in another side of town their faces and hands were severely frozen. Having no fuel they had to remain in bed until he drove 18 miles for coal.

The noble response of other states to Nebraska's appeal for aid, can never be forgotten. But, friends, remember that there is but a couple of weeks supply of provision ahead, with months of time to be provided for and the number of destitute increasing. Left without further aid thousands must perish.

We have been overburdened in answering the many letters of inquiry in regard to the drouth-sufferers in this county; but we have now made arrangements with a number of our citizens to assist us, and hereafter prompt answers will be rendered. Write freely—we want the world to know how badly our people are off.

Dahlonega Signal.

DAHLONEGA, MR. 15, 1895.

The Hall House will change hands in a few days.

Rev. J. J. Shied, of Jackson county, preached at Yaloda church last Sunday.

Mr. T. W. Waters was married to Miss Emma Satterfield in Nimbrow last Sunday, by M. C. Chester, Esq.

Capt. Ingersoll informs us that Mr. Wahl, president of the Hand Gold Mining Co., will be here about the first of April.

One of our county subscribers writes us that he has moved, and that he wishes us to change his address to Gainesville, in care of the jailer.

The sun is in a partial eclipse on the 20th. Of course the young folks will not enjoy looking at the sun as well as they did the moon the other night.

Five dentists were in Dahlonega at one time last week. They should not crowd us, but hold up until the campaign in the 10th district gets to a red heat and go down there. Every one-horse orator will flock there and talk until their teeth drop out.

There is a poor widow lady in Dahlonega with several small children that it is expected, she will draw a pension under an act passed by congress some months ago for services her husband rendered in the defense of his country, in a few days, amounting to $600.

There is nothing so beneficial to business men as the use of a good deal of printers ink. A short time ago mention was made in the Signal of Maj. Dashiell losing a $40 case between Dahlonega and Gainesville. Last week the Major received a letter from Mr. W. V. Burt, of Bartow, saying that he had noticed his loss in the Signal, and that Mr. Bennett near that place, had found it. Three weeks ago a gentleman of Dahlonega advertised a house to rent. The following week he received a letter from a gentleman in Florida who wished to secure it for the purpose of going into business.

Court convenes in Lumpkin county at an early day and violators of the law should be making arrangements to meet the Court with a big pocketful of money else they will have to run away or go to the chancery, especially where they have been running blind fiddlers. At Clarksville, during the session of the superior court, two persons—a man and a woman, were found guilty of selling liquor. Judge Kinsey fined the woman $250 and cost and the man $100 and cost. A bill was found against another fellow for selling peach and apple cider and he was not willing to face the music, and ran off. The last heard of him he was still running.

The students of the college are making arrangements to publish a paper. We wish them success. Many years ago the young men of this institution edited a twelve column journal, which was always read with interest by our citizens. This time they have decided to have it printed in Atlanta. The young men will find this plan to their disadvantage to some extent. If they do not make arrangements with the publishers to send it out from the office where it is printed, they cannot get the benefits of cheap rates of postage allowed publishers of newspapers, saying nothing of the express charges in getting it here after publication.

Go to Anderson & Jones and get your clothing for less than half price.

Dr. Letson, of Gwinnett county, spent two or three days in Dahlonega last week.

Anderson & Jones are selling clothing cheaper than ever sold before in Dahlonega.

Bill McDougall was placed in jail Wednesday on a warrant charging him with bastardy, sworn out by Martha Williams, who lay in jail several weeks on a peace warrant and was afterwards carried to the poor house.

Old Uncle Billy Franklin has now reached the age of three quarters of a century. He never used a lot of doctors medicine during his life, works every day and is almost as spry and jovial as a boy of sixteen. He says he went to school seven years but never learned his A B C's on account of looking at the "praty gals."

We were shown one day last week by Dr. Jones, a tooth which had been extracted from the mouth of a miner, that contained a hard substance on one of its roots between the end and just below where it entered the gum, resembling a small seed but as hard as steel. Upon enquiring what it was the Doctor informed us that it was oxide of quicksilver which had accumulated while the gentleman had been burning off gold for years and years.

The man residing in Lumpkin county that gives his children a dicker apiece to go to bed before supper and afterwards steals their money from them when they go to sleep, was thought to be the stingiest and meanest man in the world but the one spoken of by an exchange takes the cake. It says a man in this county sold his son-in-law one-half interest in a cow and then refused to divide the milk, maintaining that he sold only the front half. The buyer was also required to provide the feed the cow consumed, and was compelled to carry water to her three times a day. Recently the cow hooked the old man, and he is suing the son-in-law for damages.

Mr. John Hovers, who has been teaching a prosperous school in Martin's Ford district, near the edge of the county, visited Dahlonega for the purpose of delivering his report one day last week, and informed us that on the 12th inst., a dog belonging to Austin Latham, residing in Bark Camp district, Hall county, went mad and bit four of his children. It then bit Mr. Andrew Smith, a distance of half a mile and bit three of his children. Mr. Smith picked the dog up by the hind legs, beat its brains out against the ground and ended its career. Dr. Castleberry, of that county, is treating the bitten children with a mad stone and hopes to effect a permanent cure.

Last Sunday morning we saw a couple of strangers at the Burnside House and enquired of the proprietor, Mr. Harbison, who is a U. S. Deputy Marshal, who they were, when we were informed that they were drummers. In the afternoon Deputy Marshal Holton came in from White with his assistant, who took up quarters at the Burnside. Later in the evening we looked around the corner and saw Marshals Helton, Harbison and these two "drummers" all got on horses and all go out of town together, somewhat resembling a home guard company located here during the war, called "Finley's Spreadingdiggers," when they were going to charge the enemy. We saw no more of this party until Monday evening, when we learned that these two strangers were Mr. Clure, of Jasper and a Mr. Cole, two U. S. officials drumming for Uncle Sam, and that they visited Chastetate district and destroyed an illicit distillery located on a stream at the foot of the mountain with no one at it.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Dr. John Norton, of Cleveland, spent a day or two in Dahlonega this week.

Dr. F. H. Barnard, of Jacksonville, Fla., sends us an order for 25 copies of the Signal this week.

Capt. Joseph Allen has rented Col. Price's residence on Park Spring street, where he will move Monday and open a boarding house.

The ordinary informs us that he now has all the Georgia Reports in his office for the county, except 11 and 13. The list was completed thus far, at a very nominal expense to Lumpkin.

Mr. Miner Pitts purchased Mrs. Corn's farm near town, at the sum of six hundred dollars on time, last week. Miner is one of our most industrious farmers and knows exactly how to make corn.

If you want your children to get an education send them to the N. G. A. College at Dahlonega. An entrance fee of only ten dollars per year is charged. Board can be procured at from $8.50 to $12.50 per month, and a healthier climate is not known.

A Union county farmer sold a fine load of Irish potatoes in Dahlonega Saturday which were just as large and fine as the Eastern potatoes. The only difference we could see in them was that the country potatoes were only 80 cts. per bushel while the Eastern variety were 45 cts. per bushel.

Belle Satterfield, a woman of respectable character, was arrested on the streets by authority of the agrarian ordinance recently passed by the council, and carried before mayor pro tem McAfee, before whom she pleaded guilty and was fined $1 and cost, Friday night. She paid her fine and left out on the stage next morning in company with her mother, for Dalton, Ga.

The revenue officers made another raid in our county Tuesday night, and destroyed an illicit distillery near Mr. James Waters, in Nimbrow district, in the absence of the operator. Some tubs, similar to those at the distillery, were found on Mr. Waters' premises. A Mr. Cole, whose position we do not know, was along. We understood that he took the numbers of Mr. Waters' land but we know not his intention and can only guess at his object.

We have been informed that certain post masters in this and Hall county have not only been violating the postal regulations, but the law of the United States, by overcharging for stamped envelopes and offering inducements for postmasters. The one in this county has been selling Maple or amber 2-cent stamped envelopes in 25 lots for 55 cents when the law only allows 53 cents. We have been studying Postal Guide this week and find that an act of Congress of 1878 says that no post master shall charge no more nor less for stamped envelopes than is provided by law and regulations of the post office department. Any one found guilty of this offense subjects themselves to a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $100, or he imprisons not more than a year.

The other one is said to be located between Dahlonega and Gainesville and made a proposition and gave a boy mail carrier 5 cents for every letter mailed at his office—in this way making 15 cents clear in the transaction—the boy violating the law every time he carried a letter by any other office. We mention these reports so that post masters, as well as mail carriers may take warning and keep out of trouble.

TO MAKE PURE BLOOD There is no medicine before the people equal Hall's Blood Purifier. It is the standard spring medicine and blood purifier and it possesses peculiar merit which others try in vain to reach. It really makes the weak strong. Do not neglect to purify your blood this spring. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now.

Hood's Pills become the favorite cathartic with every one who tries them. 25c. per box.

Arnon Satterfield who was bound over some time ago by Com. Baker for retailing liquor, has been sentenced to 3 months imprisonment.

One of our citizens has been compelled to load his fence rails with powder in order to keep some wood thief from burning up his entire fence.

Mr. Charles McAfee will move out on the Joe Davis farm this week for the purpose of tilling the soil. Mr. Leary Pittner will move into the building Charlie vacates.

Mr. Oscar Palmer and Mr. J. P. Cheney, two of the students of the N. G. A. College, who attended the Y. M. C. A., which convened in Athens last week, have returned.

Surely the "tariff" has been taken off of gasoline, and it is much cheaper now than in former years, for we notice that some of our street lamps burn all night and half the day.

Two of the North Carolina dars, who are wanted by the city marshal, charged with gambling, have knocked the mud of Dahlonega from their heels. They took up quarters for a day or so until everything got quiet Wednesday night of last week, when they slipped in and got their female cook and all commenced the journey together.

Goodman Deek and Delia Franklin, the 15-year-old children, who married three weeks ago, separated last week. They fell out one day last week while calling up double lugs from the sand and each one picked up their rag dolls and went to their former places of abode. The uniting of children should be prohibited by law. The idea of a lad not being large enough or even willing if he was to make 50 cents to pay his dog tax, being married, is ridiculous.

Intoxicated persons should stay away from temperance societies. We are informed by an eye witness that on the night of the lecture at the Baptist church recently, a fellow sit out on the top step with a drooped head and had to get out in the edge of the yard twice during the speaking and vomited twice caused by an overdose of liquor. He was carried off by some friends to a lot and placed on his back where he went to sleep and didn't get to see the moon in eclipse.

Deputy Marshal Harbison went down last week to attend the trials of the following named persons in the U. S. Court in Atlanta, who had been violating the Internal Revenue laws, to-wit: Peter Peck, Geo. Turner, of Lumpkin, Joseph Chester, of Fannin, Tom Magness, of Gilmer, and Early Kennimer, of White. All were found guilty and sentenced to three months imprisonment in jail and pay a fine each of $100, except Kennimer, who came clear. These four men's confinements in prison added together make 360 days—nearly a year. If they had abided by the laws of our country and this number of days spent at labor on the farm instead of lying in prison, eating cow peas and fat bacon and being distracted from their slumbers by little insects known to all old sold soldiers, how much more pleasant and profitable it would have been.

Uncle Dick Anderson, colored, told us the reason he didn't get married when he was engaged a few weeks ago. He said that he had his license money laid up and this Gainesville negro preacher borrowed 50 cents of it to be paid in a few days when he returned. The time for the marriage arrived, his money was not returned, rendering him unable to procure his license. His intended bride said it must take place then or never and she jumped the track and Uncle Dick missed the last opportunity of getting married, for he is fast approaching the 50 notch. Now Uncle Dick will have to be placed away in the silent tomb without a better half to weep over his shroud, mainly on account of this shoddy man of color. We endeavored to console Dick in his doty old age, by telling him that good men said, when they went to take up a collection for a divine, "that he that giveth to the preacher leaveth to the Lord," but the old man said that "de Lord ha'd nothin' to do with dat nigger, and he would get no credit for the money by him."

The U. S. Gov't Reports show Royal Baking Powder superior to all others.

Mr. Hannah Corn, of Dahlonega, and her brother, Mr. Miller Davis, who resided a few miles from town, took their departure last Monday morning for their new homes at Nowater, I. T. Joseph and Daniel Davis will also leave in a week or ten days and locate in about 60 miles of Nowater. They all have good claims out there and we hope they will live prosperously at their new homes in the far off West. They have been good citizens and leave many warm friends behind who regret their departure.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Harbison informed us last week that he had destroyed 300 bushels of meal at illicit distilleries since the first day of January. This is a big loss. If our mountain friends had have put the 300 bushels of corn in the crib and fed it to their hogs how much better it would have been. They could have come to town and sold pork and lard without fearing any body. As it is now their cribs are empty, pockets empty and those that have not been caught are hiding out in the mountains and jumping every time they hear a stick break.

Death of Mrs. J. A. Howard.

Truly it is with a sad heart this week that we have to chronicle the sudden and unexpected death of Mrs. Mollie Howard, wife of our esteemed friend and fellow citizen, Mr. John A. Howard, which occurred at Sawannee on the morning of the 17th inst.

Since the present administration Mr. Howard has been employed as U. S. gauger, and has been away from Dahlonega most all the time at different places in the discharge of his duties. At the time of his wife's death he was located at Atlanta Heights. Mrs. Howard came up to Sawannee on the "Belle" train on a visit to her father, Mr. A. G. Harris, who resides at that place. After supper she complained of feeling sick and gradually grew worse until death relieved her. Her remains were interred at Sawannee on last Monday.

The deceased leaves a bright eyed little boy, a kind husband, many relatives and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

Mr. Howard arrived in Dahlonega Tuesday afternoon and remained until to-day, when he returned to his place of business. We, together with the entire community, condole with him in the loss of his dear companion.

Rev. W. A. Parks is now off on a lecturing tour.

Dr. Stow, of Union county, was on a visit here this week.

Geo. Peck was caught in another illicit distillery this week, making three cases looked against him for this offense.

Mr. Wm. Stringer, of Garland, came to town last Saturday to get some choice fruit trees which he had ordered. After securing them and placing them in his buggy he stepped off a few minutes to attend to some business. When he returned an old cow had eaten the whole bundle of trees except the roots—even the string that held them together had been devoured by the hungry beast. To say that Mr. Stringer was mad doesn't express it, and it caused the old gentleman to let slip some words that are not heard in churches nor at camp meetings, for he had driven six miles, lost a day's work besides paying for the trees.

Messrs. John Owenby, A. S. Whelchel, James Adams and two or three others, who had signed tax collector Walker's official bond, were in town Tuesday for the purpose of being relieved from such, on account of him being charged with gambling some Sundays ago, but ascertained from an attorney that their only chance of being relieved from such was by the Governor. Some of Walker's friends say that there is nothing in the charge and that they are now ready to assist him should these gentlemen be relieved. So you have the reports as we have gleaned them.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Harbison informed us last Sunday that Judge Newman, while passing sentence on a man that had come all the way from Gilmer county, and was caught selling liquor in the woods near Dahlonega, some months ago, stated that he didn't see what it was that the citizens of Dahlonega didn't take some interest in the matter and put a stop to the liquor selling here by prosecuting violators of the law in our own courts. The Judge added: "If you was to come before me in a county court where I had jurisdiction, I would send you to the chancery." Judge Newman said we had a state institution at Dahlonega and all should take more interest in looking after these "moonshiners" and severely punish every one found guilty.

Mining Notes.

The Mary Henry closed down last Saturday until Gen. Murray comes to make some arrangements for water to work it. The mill is kept running a portion of the time, however, crushing custom ore.

Work is being pushed as rapidly as possible on the Findlay pump so as to get it in operation by the first of April.

Mr. E. E. Crisson informs us that he is working right ahead at the Boley Field's mine in search of that much talked of rich vein which he believes to be in store for him. The miner is engaged in while on the war, is not "hand work," but is giving very satisfactory results.

Mr. W. B. Fry, superintendent of the Hedwick, near Auraria, informs us that things are moving right along, systematically, at his mine. A portion of the stamps were put to work last week and now the whole 40 is in motion.

At the Leekhart, everything is moving along as usual. Several squads of hands are engaged in taking out ore at different places. Billy Riley and Harve Stephens made the best "clean up" of any of them down there last week, being 820 pennyweights from 100 tons in the amalgam. The vein is now twenty feet broad.

The Jaquish bog below the New Bridge ford is in constant operation and from its accounts, is doing well—requiring little men to run it. The rent gold paid to one man proved that they were making over four dollars per day to the hand.

Behold Lumpkin county is rich with gold. The yellow metal is found in the beds of her rivers, beneath the soil of her hollows, under the red clay of her hills, and even rich veins have been discovered in the slacks, public squares and cemetery of Dahlonega. It can be found on hundreds of lots in our county, not only gold, but iron, mica, in some places copper, and other valuable minerals. Come and see and be convinced, all you who are in search of any of these minerals.

At the next meeting of the town council the body will doubtless take some steps that will cause persons found guilty of selling liquor in Dahlonega to get a move on them. Mayor Harbison says that if any one will swear out warrants, or the council will make it the duty of the town marshal to do so, against all persons guilty of retailing liquor within the corporate limits that he will not let them over to the superior court. Marshal Anderson says he will certainly perform the duty if it is placed upon him. So those who are in violation should take warning and cease the business in due time.

A KENTUCKY MIRACLE.

JUDGE JOHN M. RICE TELLS HOW HE WAS CURED OF SCIATICA.

Circuit Judge, Congressmen and Assemblyman.

(From the Christian, Ky. Post.)

The Hon. John M. Rice, of Louisville, Lawrence County, Kentucky, has been twenty years retired from active life as Criminal and Circuit Judge of the Sixth Judicial District of Kentucky.

He has for many years resided in Frankfort and stands the legal literature of Kentucky and at Washington, and until his retirement was a noted figure in political and judicial circles. The Judge is well known throughout the state and possesses the best qualities which go to make a Kentucky politician honored wherever he is known.

A few days ago a Kentucky Post reporter called upon Judge Rice, who in the following words related the history of the cases that led to his retirement. "It is just about six years since I had an attack of rheumatism; slight at first, but soon developing into Sciatica, which began first with acute shooting pains in the legs, gradually extending downward to my feet."

"My condition became so bad that I eventually lost all power in my legs. I was unable to walk, and I was confined to my bed. I was attended by my family, but I was unable to get any relief. I was in this condition for several months, and I was unable to do any work."

"I was then attended by Dr. John H. White, of Lexington, Ky., who was not much bettered by a number of months. My liver was actually dead, and a dull pain persisted in its region. I kept on the rack all the time. In 1891 I was reappointed Circuit Judge, but I was unable to do any work. I attended to my duties, but I was unable to do any work. I was in this condition for several months, and I was unable to do any work."
